

Critical Arts

A Journal of South-North Cultural & Media Studies

Co-Published with UNISA Press

EDITOR:

Keyan Tomaselli, University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa

Critical Arts has been publishing since 1980. A number of integrated theoretical trajectories and ongoing debates have emerged during the intervening period. Submitting authors are requested to familiarise themselves with these themes. For example, Critical Arts prefers analyses which interrogate essentialist ideas rather than simply assuming them. We prefer it if current authors address and critically engage discussions previously published in the Journal, in their own analyses. For example, the question 'What is African cinema?' is a recurring one.

Critical Arts publishes the work of established scholars and is also geared to opening spaces for new, young and dynamic authors, whose emerging work is of critical and theoretical significance. Amongst our authors (and in the book series) are MA and PhD students whose work is often theoretically refreshing, conceptually innovative and critically challenging. Critical Arts provides a platform for such students who need to find their niche within the research and publishing community. The journal is rigorously peer reviewed and aims to shape theory on the topics it covers.
